

Automatic Renewals

Books, CDs and DVDs will now be automatically renewed!

On the morning of your item's due date, the system will attempt to automatically renew the item. If it can be renewed (there are a few exceptions), it will be.

If you've registered your email address with us you'll receive an "Automatically Renewed Notice" that your item was successfully renewed. The email also lists the new due date.

If an item can't be renewed (for example, if someone has a hold on the item), its original due date remains. If you've registered your email address with us, you'll receive a "Library Courtesy Notice" letting you know.

Unfortunately, eBooks and eAudiobooks are not eligible for automatic renewal.

Make sure to register your email address with us! Visit www.phpl.info click on "Register Your Email" under the "My Account" tab.
